DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Tsujimoto et al (5310593) or JP 07-251004.

Both references disclose a sheet material formed of a planar liner and a corrugated sheet wherein the corrugated sheet includes carbon fiber as an adsorbent per claims 1-5, 8 and 9. Refer to figure 1 along with column 2, line 10-50 in Tsujimoto et al. Refer to figure 1 and the English translation of JP '004 supplied by the examiner. With regards to claims 6-9, see column 3, lines 1-17 and column 4, line 4 in Tsujimoto et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 10-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Tsujimoto et al (5310593) or JP 07-251004 in view of Yamamoto et al (6061011).

The primary reference teaches the invention substantially as recited except for the particular shapes of the radio wave absorber article per claims 11-19. See the 35 U.S.C. 102 rejection above.

Yamamoto et al discloses radio wave absorbers can take the form of hollow articles formed from folding a blank into said structure. See figures 1 and 2.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to the primary references to form the sheet material therein into a hollow radio wave absorber body, as is taught to be known by Yamamoto et al. With regards to claim 10, printing is deemed an obvious decorative effect.
